Cookie Policy

This website uses cookies to ensure the proper functioning of procedures and improve your experience. This document provides detailed information on the use of cookies and their types, how they are used in our website and how to manage them.

This website may contain links to other sites that have their own policy about privacy and the use of their cookies, and which may be different from the one adopted by this website.

What are cookies?

Cookies are computer files or partial data that can be stored on your computer (or other devices enabled to surf the web, for example, smartphone or tablet) when you visit a website. Usually a cookie contains the name of the website from which the cookie comes, the " life " of the cookie (ie: how long will stay on your device), and a value, which is usually a unique number generated randomly.

There are different kinds of cookies:

Technical Cookies

These cookies are essential for the proper operation of our sites, allow people to surf on our websites and take advantage of features like storing of previous actions (texts included) when you return to a page during the same session.
They can be temporary (or session cookies) that are deleted automatically when closing the browser, or persistent which are not deleted but stay until they are specifically deleted, or until the expiration date defined by the site itself.

Analytic Cookies / Third-Party cookies

These cookies help us to understand how users interact with our websites, providing information on the sections visited, time spent on the site, and any issue that has emerged, for example an error message. This helps us to improve the performance of our websites.

We use Google Analytics to track website activity. All data are collected and aggregated anonymously.

Integration/Functionality Cookies

These cookies allow our websites to remember choices you make (such as your user name, your preferred language or the region you are in, any products in your shopping cart) to provide an online experience more personalized. They can also allow users to visualize the video, go into the game and interact with social tools like blogs, chat rooms and forums.

They are also used for social Integration or social sharing

Targeting/Profiling/Advertising cookies

These cookies are used to present content best suited to you and your interests. They can be used to display targeted advertising or to limit the number of times an advertisement is displayed.

For what we use cookies?

We use cookies to make using our sites easier and to better adapt them to your interests and needs. Cookies can also be used to help us to speed up your future experiences and activities on our sites. We also use Google Analytics to compile anonymous statistics that allow us to understand how people use our sites and to help us improve the structure and contents of these sites. We cannot identify you personally through these information.

Our website does not use Targeting/advertising and profiling cookies.

How to delete a cookie?

Most browsers accept cookies automatically.

The user can disable cookies from your browser, but in this case you must remember that you could lose many functions necessary for proper operation of the website.
